DIGGIN' DEEP UNDERGROUND FOR THE PUREST GOLD !!!

If you want to find pure gold you have to go deep, deep below the surface of the earth - down into the mines where you will find the gold in the rocks.

Mines are very dangerous places. You have to watch out for poisonous vapours and flooding.

Mineshafts cave in if you don't reinforce them with strong props of timber, concrete or steel, wedged between the floor and the ceiling.

When the diggers find a gold vein they have to get the gold out of the rock. They use pneumatic drills and pneumatic hammers, dynamite, and

The gold is taken to the surface by underground railway, truck or conveyor belt.

Blowing up the rock with dynamite opens up shafts which is extremely dangerous too!! You need very long fuses to give you time to take cover before the explosion.

Miners are cutting a vertical shaft for a lift to carry men, materials and gold. Mineshafts can also be horizontal or sloping.

COOL FACTS:

Miners have a very special way of getting the gold out of the rock. It's squeezed out in little nuggets!

The nuggets go into an oven where the gold is heated to 1063 degrees centigrade, the point at which it melts.

The molten gold is poured into moulds, where it hardens into bars.

One bar of gold is worth thousands. If all the bars of gold you can see in this photograph belonged to you, you would be unbelievably rich!

We're Under Attack to the ROCK MONSTERS!!!

The hardworking team of Rock Raiders are blasting away at full speed. They haven't found any giant crystals for ages, perhaps because the huge Rock Monsters keep interrupting their work.

I'll just pop out and check the Monsters' cave.

Let's hope they are asleep!

Come back in one piece!

Further into the mine, Jet lands right beside a Monster's den!

I have got to meet Jet in a Monster's cave, and she says it is urgent.

Hmm...according to the crystal detector there are tons of crystals here!

I can't find the crystals!

Maybe they are in the rock?

I'll get Bandit.
This is a job for him.

Jet returns to the cave and gets a nasty surprise. Somebody has smashed the crystal detector!

At another spot in the mine Axle is peering through his infra-red binoculars.

It looks like a crystal ore, but I must get closer.

WOW!
A huge one! I must get back to HQ!

There isn't usually a waterfall. Part of the mine must have caved in.

Axle makes it to shore at the very last moment, but new problems are right behind him!

Arrgh! I reckon that Monster wants me for its lunch!

ARGHHH!

Without warning, the Rock Raider HQ
is attacked by a furious Monster!

Watch out
below!

Now we are in trouble!

GURUUUGGHA!

Does is in trouble, but Sparks
bravely helps him...

It is too dangerous
to use the laser.
Blast!

Oh no! The Monster has kidnapped
Sparks!

Don't worry,
everyone! I will go
after it!

Axie and Sparks wake up in the Monster's den...

Look what I found
while you were asleep!

DRILLANT! A giant crystal!

HURRAH!

Yes! And that this cave is full of them!

Asic and Sparks make radio contact with Jet, who is rushing about in the Giant Tunnel Transport.

Hey!

Look what I found!

We would never have found you without the radio.

You are the strong guy Bandli, so knuckle down!

A moment later, the Rock Raiders team is assembled.

There are more rocks in this corner.

COOL!

I will bring the turbo circular saw over now!

I hope the Monster stays away!

A beautiful specimen!

We are just too amazing guys!

Perhaps we should tease the Monster a bit more, eh?
Ha! Ha!

These are some of the best crystals we have ever found!

The courageous Rock Raiders return to HQ with a huge load of giant crystals. It has been a good day at the mine and it is time to have a party!

Look!

There are loads of good building ideas in the game as well - new vehicles to build from your LEGO Rock Raiders Sets!!!

The guys did a whole lot of building themselves before they decided what vehicles and action should be in the game...

They had to do hundreds of sketches as well-so the animators could make the characters really awesome.

It takes hours, weeks, MONTHS to program a game as great as that. But the programmers were LEGO freaks, too!

Tim and Ingo have just been on an expedition in outer space. Their space shuttle exploded, but by using their smart microzapper while still inside the shattered cockpit they managed to survive by zapping to a new universe.

Building Contest

The Rock Raiders need your help! They have detected tons of precious crystals located in one of the Rock Monster's caves. They need you to be their chief engineer to design and build a heavy duty vehicle to get the crystals, and escape from the terrifying Rock Monsters. Remember, the vehicle must be able to perform low level flying in the caves, drill through walls, submerge in water, move stones weighing tons, and also have a compartment to store the crystals. The vehicle must also look different from Rock Raiders existing vehicles, to confuse the Rock Monsters.

Name your vehicle, and send in a photograph of yourself and your vehicle to the following address by the 10th October 1999, to qualify for the contest.
